Pastor Keith

astor Keith Hammond was born in Chicago, Illinois. Both his parents were medical professionals. Growing up, he attended catholic, lutheran, methodist and baptist churches and always knew he was called to pursue righteousness, but tragedies in his life kept him distracted.

From ages 8 to 18, he witnessed a neighbor get shot; lost his grandfather; lost his mother; was molested by a relative the night his mother passed, lost his best friend to gun violence; was sent away by his father; lost his grandmother; lost his father; lost another best friend to suicide, lost the family pet and much more.

Although maintaining constant prayer all his life, for 17 years he ran from God's calling. He was angry with God for all the tragedy. In 1991 he moved his family to Minnesota. In 1993 his wife invited him to a church in Minneapolis where one of the pastors from his youth was preaching at a revival. It was then that Pastor Keith knew it was time to surrender, repent, dedicate his life to Christ, and get in the position for God's blessing. He, his wife, and their children became members of the church in 1997.

Pastor Keith served in leadership there as the right hand to the pastor for 10 of the 12 years his family maintained membership there.

Pastor Keith is the husband of Evangelist Annie. Their union has been blessed for 30 years (2014). God has added to them 2 children, Rochelle, age 29 and Kisha, age 24. They have also been blessed and honored with 2 grandchildren, ages 8 and 6, with two more grandkids on the way. All are raised in the church and are finding their place in using their gifts for God.

G od has blessed Pastor Keith with the assignment of using his gifts to develop materials useful in service to the Body of Christ. He has written over 70 books on Christian living; 5 books on business, and 5 books on technology. Copies of his books, booklets, tracts, training manuals, and study guides, are available through most online retailers and at his website pastorkeith.org.

In over 18 years in leadership at two churches, Pastor Keith, to the glory of God, served in numerous roles including:

- The Pastor's right hand
- Led the Deacons
- Led the Sunday School Teachers
- Taught Adult Sunday School Classes
- Designed flyers, banners, programs, posters.
- Installed and managed the technology systems
- Designed a new church campus and facilities
- Programmed and managed the web site
- Wrote and published the church newsletters
- Wrote and published the membership book
- Edited and published the church cookbook
- Designed the church membership database
- Developed and gave numerous presentations
- Served as chair of numerous ministries
- Led and expanded a prison ministry
- Directed and managed a television ministry

His leadership skills were developed and honed over 18 years to be a tremendous asset to the Body of Christ. For more information on how Pastor Keith has used his God-given gifts visit his website pastorkeith.org people say Pastor Keith is a success story by any measure because of his never-give-up approach to life. They say he is a dedicated church leader, an extremely gifted individual, and a dynamic asset to the Body of Christ. He says that in spite of mistakes he's made, God still transformed his life from pride and prison to passion and purpose. After spending six months in prison and six months in jail, he now spends his time strengthening his relationship with God through Jesus Christ, doing ministry work, teaching and writing books that help others grow and mature in their Christian walk. More about his experiences are in his book titled, Success After Setback, such as:

- As an entrepreneur, he designed and built a technology high school, which earned him a million dollar annual contract.
- As an employee, he's worked for companies such as IBM, 3M, Continental Bank, Marshall Fields, and State of Minnesota.
- As a consultant, he's project managed various endeavors.
- As a student, he's been educated in many schools including local ones such as ProSource, Minneapolis Drafting School, and University of St. Thomas. A former student of Bethel College, he is currently pursuing a Doctorate in Organizational Leadership.
- As a writer, he's written for local newspapers.
- As an author, he's written 5 books on technology, 5 books on business, and has over 70 books on Christian living to his credit. He recently finished writing his autobiography titled, Ten Years Ten Tears, which chronicles ten tragedies from ages 8 to 18.
- A committed Christian, he has served 18 years in church leadership.

God's calling on his life is truly evident by the showering of gifts upon him by the Holy Spirit. He spends his time focusing on doing ministry work and teaching others how to go beyond the tradition of "Church on Sunday, Nothing on Monday," by transforming their schedules to be useful and effective to God during the week by feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, visiting the sick, ministering to prisoners, helping strangers, taking care of widows and spending time with orphans.

Pastor Keith says that is how God transformed his life and gave him purpose. He now holds free workshops to train people how to change their schedules from madness to ministry and helps many churches teach their members how to do the same.

"The rendering above is of a new proposed church. It is the vision God has shown me is the gathering place for the sons, sisters and saints of God. It will be a worship center that is designed and destined to do church and ministry in a way that is very different than tradition. It will be a loving, welcoming, working, church and ministry that will teach, train, help, heal, prepare for harvest, and provide hope to the immediate, surrounding, and broader community.

Who Am I? In many men's eyes, I'm a nobody. But in God's eyes, I'm a marred and cracked vessel that He is reshaping into someone useful in His service to help spread the good news of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I am grateful to God that He has chosen me to design and develop it."

"I remember the first major drawing I ever did. It was a 2d drawing of the skyline of the city of Chicago on a 24x36 poster board. I did it in pencil. I drew it from a north facing window on the 13th floor of a housing complex. My sister Sharon and my wife Annie loved it. I gave it away to my godmother Hazel Phoenix as a gift. She adored it. When I first started 3d design, my first major project was to design a new church for the church I was attending. It hung in the sanctuary many years."

Many people consider Pastor Keith an innovator in design. Since his high school days over 30 years ago taking drafting, to his classes in Architectural design at Minneapolis Drafting School, to a mini-Master in real estate development from the University of St. Thomas, his skills are at a level that can help in just about any situation.

Pastor Keith provides his 3d design and consulting services free to churches and ministries on a first call first serve basis. He requires the church or ministry to answer some basic questions about the vision for the project in order to move forward. He sits down with the individual or team of members and other stakeholders and walks them through the project from concept to completion.

CHURCHES, APARTMENTS, CAMPUSES, SPECIAL PROJECTS

FROM CONCEPT TO COMPLETION, PASTOR KEITH HAS THE SKILLS NECESSARY TO BRING YOUR PROJECT TO LIFE.

Pastor Keith's autobiography, Ten Years Ten Tears chronicles his life while focusing on the primary reason he kept having problems with things he believed he had been delivered from. From age 8 to age 18, he experienced ten tragedies including being the witness to his next door neighbor getting shot with a shotgun; the loss of his grandfather; the loss of his mother; being molested by a relative the night his mother passed; the loss of the family pet; the loss of his grandmother; being sent away by his father, kicked out by his brother; loss his grandmother, loss his father; witnessed his best friend get killed; and lost another best friend to suicide. These and more tragedies, including prison and jail time, were setbacks that helped him mature into the minister that he is today.

Pastor Keith has also written a dynamic how-to book that takes a hands-on approach to Ministry. Transform Your Schedule Transform Your Life details how to change our schedules from doing busy work in the world, to focusing on reaching the lost doing ministry work such as feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, visiting the sick, ministering to prisoners, etc. The book is also being taught as a free workshop, which gives people instruction on how to locate places for ministry; how to build a team; how to locate food sources, how to find clothing for workers, how to volunteer at hospitals, nursing homes, hospices, and veterans homes; and resources for prison ministry such as a database, newsletter, Bible studies, and contacts.

Pastor Keith's other dynamic works also include a series of free Hope and Inspiration messages:

And, his website also includes numerous free, single-page downloadable Bible study lessons, and tracts:

Brother Keith's website also includes numerous free booklets that ask tough questions and deals with topics such as:

Pastor Keith has written news articles and has interviewed and photographed many people such as Maya Angelou, Bill Cosby, Lauren Green, Jam and Lewis, Sounds of Blackness, Dick Gregory, and others. Some of the dozens of articles include:

Bill Cosby Gives Rousing Performance

Lauren Green Leaves KSTP-TV

Craig Green Found Slain

Dick Gregory Brings Hope To Peace Summit

Maya Angelou Speaks At Convention Center

Sounds of Blackness Songstress Expands

Pastor Keith also has a technology background. He specialized in data, design, development, and delivery of high-end technology products and services. His career has involved working in technology and real estate either owning his own companies or working for others. And, he is highly skilled at 3D modeling, as well as animation, and has many projects to his credit.

His experience and education, in technology and real estate development, earned him a million dollar annual contract to design and build a high school. As a business consultant, he has written numerous business plans and proposals for others. As an entrepreneur, he has started a number of his own endeavors including a project that he hopes God will allow him to manifest one day called TransiHouse. Its mission is to provide stable housing and essential life skills to ex-offenders.

Pastor Keith has tremendous experience in designing and coding websites, and in programming databases. He also has a vast amount of experience in technical writing, self-publishing, technology and strategic plans, network infrastructure diagrams, business plans, technical manuals, annual reports, proposals for a variety of successful funding requests, creative writing specialist for a variety of products, promotions, campaigns, menus; and he has edited and published many newsletters, cookbooks, training manuals, study guides, cheat sheets and online magazines. He has also created online shopping malls for clients.

His design skills and the work that he produces helps many, but he says, "It is only because God has given me favor in these areas. And I always remember and remind myself that unto whom much is given, of him shall be much required."

There is absolutely no secret to what God can do.

Jesus Is Lord
