Keith M. Hammond

Keith M. Hammond

Active in the church and ministry for over 20 years, author Keith Hammond has fasted regularly.

In 2016, he completed a 40-day fast.
He ate no food the entire time.

This book shares part of his testimony over the journey, but also gives you insight on many other things that you can fast from such as your cell phone, the television, negative people, and many other items you may never think about being strong enough to abstain from that can make you stronger in the Lord once you do them.

Each and every year since becoming actively involved in the church and ministry, the author has come to look forward to his annual spiritual checkup.

Everyone at some point goes to the doctor to get a physical, but what do we do when we need someone to check in on our spirit?

This book is a 120-day schedule of sacrifice, in the form of a journal that you can use to grow deeper in your faith, and get closer to God each year. The steps to take are a sacrifice in that they require you to commit to them to witness progress through the process.

All The Ways

RELEASED AUG 2016
222 Pages Paperback
ISBN 9781938588020

A poetic book of hope and inspiration, focusing on the primary goal of reminding all Christians of the many ways God does certain things in our lives, that we almost never acknowledge Him for.

This is an interactive book and daily journal with the purpose of helping us think about the various ways God blesses us.

It guides the reader through a weekly poetic journal of writing down all the ways we've been blessed that week and encourages us to reach inside of ourselves to pull out our best to share with others.

ARSENAL OF AMMUNITION

There will always be things we haven't noticed or seen in the Bible, and mysteries God has yet to reveal to us, but most Christians know more about the Bible than we think we do. This book is a checklist, full of dozens of Bible facts page by page, with space to check off what you know, and mark those you don't. Based on three scriptures from the book of Deuteronomy this book helps you study the Bible and expand what you know.

If there was one image I would choose to sum up the dozens of video clips it took to make the trailer, including the dozens that ended up on the cutting room floor, it would be this one.

This series is a culmination of years of preparation and incubation before this concept ever landed in my lap. I don't know why God chose me to bring it to people in the form of comic books, a comic companion, and an animated film, but I'm humbled and grateful.

I pray that you embrace and enjoy the excitement I feel each and every day I get to produce and direct this wonderful work and I look forward to hearing how the story and series touches your life, the way it is transforming mine.

DISEASE CARRIER DON'T BE A HOST FOR SIN

As a Christian have you ever thought about the fact that Jesus carried all sin, sickness and disease TO THE CROSS WITH HIM!
So how and why is it that Christians can still get sick?

This book teaches how being a carrier for sin is no different than walking around with physical disease. It shows how sin causes actual and real sickness in our physical bodies.

The only way to rid our bodies of such illnesses is through the healing power of God's Word. Teaches how the fruit of the Spirit and many other tools are available to every Christian in order to fight the daily battle of staying physically and spiritually healthy so we can be effective in our walk with Christ.

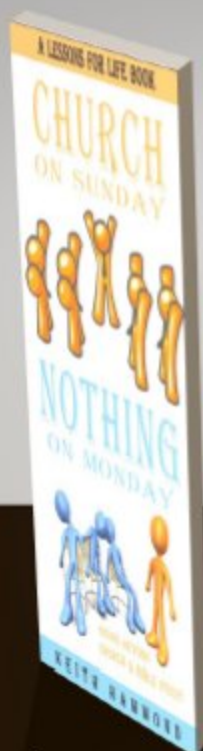

SPIRITUAL GROWTH

CHURCH ON SUNDAY NOTHING ON MONDAY

A hands-on approach to training your leaders and members to do ministry work. I've said many times, "the last thing mature Christians need is another Bible study if they haven't used what they've already been learning for years."

What people need is a 'ministry class' to help them go steps beyond church and Bible study.

Raw and uncut, but encouraging words that inspire, incite, and get you out of your comfort zone of the church pew. If you're ready to stop making excuses and make it happen, this book is for you.

Because I've been active in the church and ministry for 20 years, I listen to a lot of gospel music.

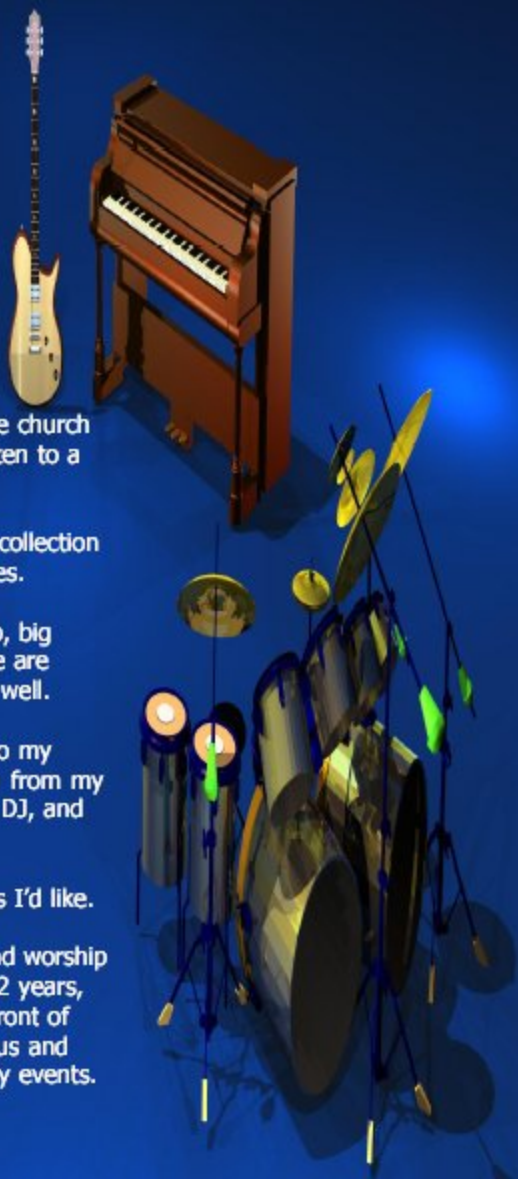

To balance it out, I still have a collection of songs that span five decades.

I like soft rock, jazz, r n b, pop, big band, classic ballads, and there are some rock bands I listen to as well.

I'm older and seasoned now so my music tastes have toned down from my college days on the radio as a DJ, and spinning at house parties.

I play piano but not as good as I'd like.

My wife and I led the praise and worship at a church we attended for 12 years, so I'm comfortable singing in front of groups. I've led the male chorus and sang solos in the choir at many events.

...MORE ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Opening my own retail store was the best thing for finding a new audience, and marketing my books locally and more effectively.

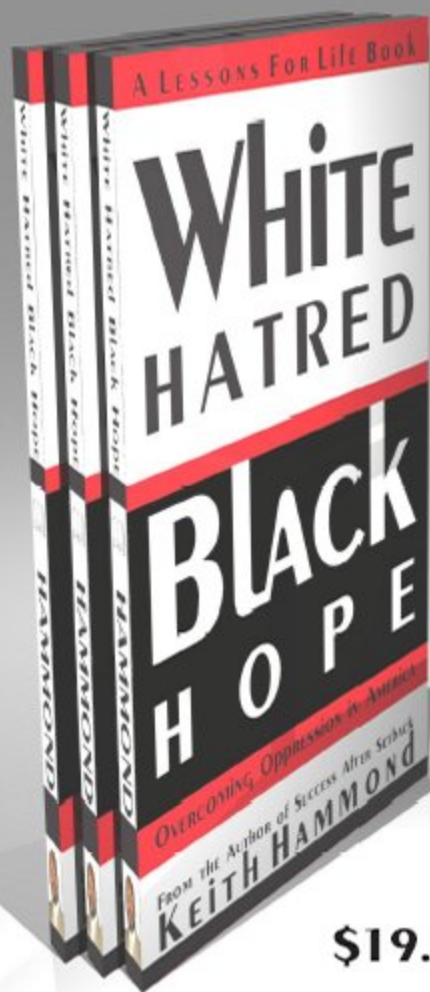

We launched in 2013 with fantastic support and it grew exponentially over time.

Books 'N Tea is a cool concept. I kept it open 18 months to prove my theory that an author could own a bookstore/cafe` in small communities and succeed. I also proved that it could be offered as a franchise, which generated interest.

In 2017, I plan to reopen the flagship store in a much larger location, which will enable me to focus on further developing my tea and beverage brand as well.

We promote pink and blue parties for kids, have space for chess matches, sports days, and book clubs, and our niche is hosting book signings for authors. The goal is to open a handful of local stores and then take the chain national.

...MORE ABOUT THE AUTHOR

For 15 straight years, my wife and I opened our doors to families in need when they were homeless. At one point in our lives we lived in Edina right near the 9th hole on Interlachen. Then for a period of time we lived in the gated community of River Bluff Estates in Bloomington.

Our kids are 31 & 27. When they grew older and moved out on their own, they started careers, got married, and are now raising their own kids. We had no need for that much space anymore, so my wife and I downsized.

We travel a lot for various reasons. We have a big family on both sides, so we visit regularly. Our youngest daughter, her husband, and their daughter have moved to Arizona, so we go there often.

We already had a lot of other family and friends down there so it's ideal for vacations and getaways. We've always traveled. We raised our kids in the church, which came with going from state-to-state to attend and participate in national conventions. During down time, we would fellowship with other church members on group camping trips to other parts of the country as well.

I enjoy the outdoors. For the past four decades, when weather permits, and when I don't have deadlines for any projects, I've typically walked about 50 miles a month. I use one day to walk 20 miles, then split the rest up into smaller 5 mile increments once or twice a week. It helps keep me healthy.

Tips For Joining A God Church

(50 Things You Should See Under The Surface)

After spending 10 years as the right hand to a pastor, and serving in nearly every position possible over 20 years, I wrote this book to outline in detail, the aspects that a church should have in order to identify as a 'God' church. There are churches all over that do 'good' but not all of them are Godly. I encourage people to look for a God church when seeking to join one.

LIFE LESSONS FOR YOUTH AND ADULTS

I write because I'm compelled to write. My career began by writing articles for local newspapers. When I commit to a book, it takes time, and patience.

Some books I complete in a week, others take months. There is no formula for making it work the same every time.

I tell anyone who wants to get better at marketing their own books to see my video in the Video Training section on LessonsForLifeBooks.com.

For anyone just starting out who wants to write their first book, get a recorder, take it everywhere you go and talk into it anytime you think about putting something else in your book. You'll end up with pages, chapters, notes, ideas and thoughts to finish the project.
